

Independence Day message from the Director General

To the brave men and women of the Central Industrial Security Force, and your families, it gives me immense pride to extend my warm greetings on the occasion of 80th Independence Day anniversary of our great nation.

As we hoist the national flag today to celebrate our 80th Independence Day, we do not just commemorate our hard-won freedom, but pledge to protect it with renewed vigour and commitment. On this momentous occasion, I pay my deepest homage to the freedom fighters and the brave martyrs who made the ultimate sacrifice for our motherland.

As India marches resolutely toward the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047, our nation's economic and technological ascent is capturing the world's attention. To realize our vision of a developed India and a multi-trillion-dollar economy, an impregnable security environment is absolutely essential. Whether it is our airports, seaports, space centres, atomic energy plants, or vital manufacturing sectors, the Central Industrial Security Force stands as the silent, impenetrable shield behind this national progress.

I appeal to every man and woman in this force to remember the promise you made when you first wore this uniform—the promise to devote yourself entirely to the service of the nation. You are the vanguard of India's critical assets. Whether you are deployed at a bustling metropolitan transport network or stationed at a remote, challenging installation, your professionalism and domain competencies form the backbone of India's economic prosperity.

Let us stride forward into this new year of independence with immense pride in our legacy and a clear vision for our future. Our strength lies in our integrity, perseverance and commitment to duty.

I wish you and your families a joyous Independence Day, filled with pride & inspiration to serve our great nation with unbounded zeal and excellence.

Jai Hind !
